Science curriculum doesn't have to be expensive. A good portion of what we've used for science over the years has been free resources! I remember science being incredibly dry and boring in school and I want my children's science experience to be anything but boring. Because of that, I seek out resources that offer learning through living books and lots and lots of experiments.

Butyrate is the preferred fuel of the colonocyte, therefore it is essential. If you haven't read my thoughts on the term "preferred", the point is that what a cell will consume first isn't necessarily the fuel that is the healthiest, though it certainly can be. Other reasons could be to get rid of it, or to access the metabolites.
