Every real number is negative, 0, or positive. The law is sometimes stated as "For arbitrary real numbers  $a$  and  $b$ , exactly one of the relations  $a < b$ ,  $a = b$ ,  $a > b$  holds" (Apostol 1967, p. 20).

In general, "a" calculus is an abstract theory developed in a purely formal way. "The" calculus, more properly called analysis (or real analysis or, in older literature, infinitesimal analysis), is the branch of mathematics studying the rate of change of quantities (which can be interpreted as slopes of curves) and the length, area, and volume of objects.

A complex number is a number that can be expressed in the form  $a + bi$ , where  $a$  and  $b$  are real numbers, and  $i$  is a solution of the equation  $x^2 = -1$ . Because no real number satisfies this equation,  $i$  is called an imaginary number. For the complex number  $a + bi$ ,  $a$  is called the real part, and  $b$  is called the imaginary part. Despite the historical nomenclature "imaginary", complex numbers are ...

Countless math books are published each year, however only a tiny percentage of these titles are destined to become the kind of classics that are loved the world over by students and mathematicians. Within this page, you'll find an extensive list of math books that have sincerely earned the reputation that precedes them. For many of the most important branches of mathematics, we've ...
