Abiogenesis, or informally the origin of life, is the natural process by which life has arisen from non-living matter, such as simple organic compounds. While the details of this process are still unknown, the prevailing scientific hypothesis is that the transition from non-living to living entities was not a single event, but a gradual process of increasing complexity that involved molecular ...

Every town is rated by the ISO™ 1980/1998 edition of the Fire Suppression Rating Schedule on a scale of 1 to 10: 1 is the best and 10 is the worst. The efficiency of its water system normally makes up 40 percent of a community's rating: if it is out of balance with the fire department, it could cost the community up to half of its rating.
