A wicked problem is a problem that is difficult or impossible to solve because of incomplete, contradictory, and changing requirements that are often difficult to recognize. It refers to an idea or problem that can not be fixed, where there is no single solution to the problem. The use of the term "wicked" here has come to denote resistance to resolution, rather than evil.

The source of the changing magnetic fields in MRI may either be the imaging gradients or radiofrequency (RF) coils. The conductive material in which eddy currents are induced may be any metallic component of the MR scanner (other coils, shields, tubes, and housing), wires or devices within or on the patient, and the patient as a whole (in the final analysis, people are just big bags of saline!)
